

Addendum to the Education Standards for Neonatal Nurse Practitioner Programs

NANN has prepared the following correction to the Education Standards for Neonatal Nurse Practitioner Programs (published 2002) as an addendum.

Correction

Page 5, Correction: To revise the paragraph on Practice Experience Requirements for Prospective Students as follows:

Practice Experience Requirements for Prospective Students

The equivalent of two years full-time, recent (within the last five years) RN practice experience in the care of critically ill newborns/infants is required prior to beginning the clinical courses. It is recommended that the majority of RN practice experience should be obtained in a level III neonatal intensive care unit. Students may enroll in pre-clinical courses while obtaining the necessary practice experience in neonatal nursing.
